A band of glossy copper under counters will develop a rich patina over time

1 OUTSIDE-THE-BOX DETAILS Reminiscent of charming unfitted kitchens, sliding, glass-fronted cabinetry puts serving pieces on display while delivering character in spades. These stained white oak glass doors from Montreal-based kitchen design company Cuisines Steam also boast soft, rounded corners and offer a warmer alternative to all-white storage. Price upon request. Through Cuisines Steam.

2 ELEGANT HARDWARE Like delicate jewelry, finely wrought pulls make a quiet yet memorable statement. Casson Hardware's aptly named Pulse Line handles are crafted from solid brass in the Netherlands and are available in a brushed or polished finish. By Jeroen van de Gruiter. $275 each. Through Casson Hardware.

3 PASTEL FLATWARE In a sea of brass and blackened-metal flatware, pastel-dipped pieces feel fresh and optimistic. This brushed stainless steel set from Cutipol features slim, curvy shapes accented by resin handles in a matte shade of pink. GOA Pink Matte 5-piece flatware set by José Joaquim Ribeiro for Cutipol, $95. At Hopson Grace.

4 MIXED-MARBLE SERVING PIECES When mod, abstract patterns meet timeless natural materials, beautiful things happen. Other Kingdom's Cut Out platters are made of colourful marble offcuts from master inlayer Prakash Kumar's workshop in Bangalore, India, resembling supersized terrazzo. In Red & Pink. Approx. $300. Through Matter.

5 LINEAR LIGHTING Minimal lighting is a refreshing antidote to today's bulkier pendants and oversized fixtures. Hang Lambert & Fils' Mile 04 Suspension light — available in four fresh colours including Green (shown) and Burgundy — over an island to punctuate a contemporary kitchen. From $1,450. At Inform Interiors.
