STYLE RESOURCE

Cook's Corner

Whether you're looking for inspiration or expertise, you'll leave the new Cuisines Steam showroom gratified. Launched in 2000 as a custom kitchen design service by Brigitte Boulanger and Jean Côté, the company moved to an impressive 5,000-square-foot space in Montreal last fall. Open the hand-crafted cabinets in the display kitchens and fantasize about a full-scale reno, or browse the selection of tableware by local designers and a new house-brand line of table linens for a less intensive refresh. 7865 Saint-Laurent Blvd., (514) 485-1991 or cuisinesteam.ca.

A striking walnut and metal island is both industrial and organic. Custom island, from approx. $12,000.

With its matte black veneer, rich brass pulls and gorgeous Carrara marble top, the Fletcher credenza could easily pass as a vintage find. Use it as office or media storage (thanks to the aluminum honeycomb vent in the back and file-cabinet hardware for the bottom drawer), or as a transitional piece between cooking and dining areas in an open-concept space. 27½" h. x 55" w. x 15¾" d. $1,299. At Crate & Barrel.
